Our purchases for the Spring and Summer trade has been very extensive in MILLINERY, Silks and Wool Dress Goods, Wash Fabrics, Fancy Notions, Ribbons, Laces, Carpets, Rugs, Matting, Shoes, Slippers, Clothing, Hats and Furnishing Goods.

We are prepared to show you a very extensive and UP-TO-DATE line of Merchandise at reasonable prices. Come to see us.

The Logan Dry Goods Co.

Of Local Interest.

Bob Kinnaird and John Stormes claim to have beans "up."

The Council should enforce the sidewalk ordinance this Spring.

Prospects are good for a great deal of building in Lancaster this Spring.

Lightning "blew the fuses" in a great many telephones last Saturday night.

Fishermen are getting their tackle together, and whetting up their lying machines.

The Sunday dinners and suppers at the Garrard continue to be very popular. Go up next Sunday and try one.

Don't wade through the mud, but phone Alek Miller and have him haul you to the trains. Will cost but little.

The Council shows less sense by trying the artesian well experiment. If successful, it will save from ten to twelve thousand dollars.

The next attraction at the opera house is Gus Sun's minstrels. Sun gave the best show in Lancaster last season, and a big crowd will see him.

There will be work in the Entered Apprentice degree at the Masonic lodge next Tuesday. Action in other important matters will also be taken.

J. W. Lawson asks THE RECORD to announce that his wife's funeral will be preached at Goshen the third Sunday in May. She died last November.

Our illustrated supplement was pronounced a "Peach." It will be sent out once a month. Now's the time to subscribe for THE RECORD. Only one dollar a year.

Preaching at Antioch.

Rev. A. R. Moore will preach at New Antioch church every second and fourth Sunday. Services begin at 2:30 p.m.

Deserving Little Fellow.

Master Leonard Miller, an exceedingly bright young man, has entered THE RECORD office to learn the art preservative. He is energetic and in earnest, the kind of boy that is exceedingly hard to find these days.

Handkerchief Sale.

The ladies of the Christian church society will hold a handkerchief sale Saturday afternoon, March 29, at the Stormes store room, on Danville St.

Good Appointment.

Mr. Jerry Respass has been appointed county surveyor. This is a good appointment, and the duties of the office are certain to be carried out carefully and properly.

A Sensitive Man.

A widower of Wellington, Kas., the other day was remarried just two weeks after his first wife's death, and when the boys came to charivari him he went out and told them they ought to be ashamed of themselves for making such an uproar around a house where a funeral had been held so recently.

Old Fiddlers at Stanford.

An interesting program is being arranged for the old fiddlers' contest Friday night. Some of Lincoln county's prettiest and most talented young ladies will be down for recitations. Messrs Ed Walton and Jesse Alverson are the promoters, which insures success. Telephone them and have seats reserved.

Wood Dunlap Secretary.

Lexington Herald—Attorney Wood G. Dunlap has been elected secretary and general manager of the Knox Oil company and will have his office hereafter at the Phoenix Hotel in Lexington. It is said that on the Wage farm in Knox county is one well producing from 1,500 to 2,000 barrels per day.

Richardson.

The remains of Mrs. Wm. M. Richardson were interred at the Lancaster Cemetery Tuesday, about noon. She was a daughter of Ben F. Slavin, and the funeral services were held at his residence, between here and Danville, near Providence. Many friends of the family in this county extend sympathy to the family.

Kind Words for Bro. Tomlinson.

The Nicholasville Journal says: Hon. R. H. Tomlinson, of Garrard, will be a candidate for Lieut. Governor before the next Democratic State convention. He was three times elected county attorney, and is now serving his third term as Garrard's representative in the Legislature. A lawyer of much ability, an eloquent speaker, and a most popular gentleman, he is thoroughly equipped for the place.

Personal Mention.

Lexington Democrat—Ion. R. C. Warren, candidate for Congress in the Eighth district, was in the city last night, returning from Frankfort. Mr. Warren is one of the best equipped men in the district for the office he seeks and if devoted to party and an unbroken record of fealty to its principles and candidates count for anything, he has a splendid chance to win the nomination and election.

Graded School Tournament.

The annual Bluegrass Graded School Tournament will be held this year at Versailles. It has been decided to hold it in June this year, instead of May, as it will interfere less with the regular school work. A number of new features will be added to the contests and it is thought that there will be a large number of contestants in all events. About twelve schools will have representatives in the various contests.

R. Y. P. S.

The Baptist Young Peoples Society will give a silver offering missionary social tomorrow, Friday, evening at 7 o'clock at the church. An interesting and profitable missionary program will be rendered with solo's and quartets by best local talent, after which refreshments will be served. A silver offering will be taken which will be devoted to the cause of christian missions. Every body is cordially invited to attend.

Finest in Years.

The hemp crop in Garrard has been remarkable this season, and will net a handsome sum to the farmers. The other day, we saw an estimate of the crops in the various hemp-producing localities, and it showed that Fayette comes first with 5,000,000 pounds; Jessamine second with 3,000,000 pounds; Garrard third with 2,500,000 pounds; Boyle fourth with 2,000,000 pounds. The total growth of these four counties, at regular market price represents $625,000.

They Appreciate Him.

Senator Geo. T. Farris, of this city, endeared himself to the newspaper men by his assistance at Frankfort during the recent session. In a confab, the boys decided that THE RECORD would announce Senator Farris as a candidate for congress in this district. His gallant services to his party certainly merit substantial recognition, and if the people will stand by him as firmly as will the press boys, he will win in a walk. Why not reward faithful services?

Seems to Suit 'Em.

THE RECORD's suggestion of Hon. R. H. Tomlinson, of this city, as a probable candidate for nomination for lieutenant governor at the next Democratic convention, has taken well with the press over the state, and a great many good things are being said about the Garrard county man. Mr. Tomlinson is well equipped for the place, and his recent good work for the newspaper boys, in their effort to get an advertising law, will always be remembered by them.

A Red Letter Day.

The local W C T U will observe Neal Dow's birthday Saturday March 22, in their parlor, from 3 to 4 o'clock. All who have ever been members or intend joining are cordially invited, honorary members included. Music: Devotional, Mrs. Hubble; The Christian's position in regard to Temperance, Mrs. Campbell; The thank offering, Mrs. Dr. Kinnaird; The teacher's opportunity, Jane Shumate; Sewing committee, Mrs. Wm Lear, Mrs. Stone, Mrs. Robt Embry, Miss Anderson.

New Hardware Firm.

The stock of goods belonging to the late John M. Higginbotham was sold at auction Thursday afternoon. There were several bidders, but Messrs T. B. Walker & Son were the highest, and the stock was knocked off to them at $3,500. They took immediate possession, and are now ready to furnish anything in their line at rock bottom prices. These two gentlemen stand in the front ranks of business men, and THE RECORD predicts for them a successful career. They are among the most popular men in the county, and when you trade with them you are sure to get a square deal. Mr. John Anderson will assist in the store.

Must Register in Lancaster.

A bill of far-reaching political possibilities passed the Kentucky House Friday, having apparently slipped through the Senate. The new act requires registration in all cities from the first to the fifth class, inclusive, and every voter that registers must receive a certificate of registration. This certificate must be presented to the election officers before voting. If the certificate is lost or destroyed to that effect and paying the County Clerk a fee of fifty cents may secure a new one. By this law, all that is necessary is to buy the voter's certificate and it will not be necessary to "run him off," as has been done in elections heretofore.

A Good Rule by a Good Paper.

The Morning Herald has announced that it will adhere strictly to the rule that all subscriptions must be paid in advance. It is a good rule and every newspaper ought to adopt and stand to. The Herald offers a special inducement to its subscribers to pay in advance by giving all who do so a first class, up-to-date map of Kentucky, of the United States and of the world, and at the same time publishing such a good paper that no one who can get it is willing to do without it.

Will Build in Richmond.

The Richmond lodge of Elks has created a fund for the erection of an elegant opera house, lodge room, etc. The erection of the building will prove of great advantage to Lancaster, as good shows can then play in Richmond and get here without the "long jumps" the theatrical people dislike so much. If Danville will now put up a first-class play house, we would be able to secure attractions that can not afford to come this way now. Lancaster and Somerset are the only towns in this section having up-to-date, thoroughly equipped opera houses.

Trains Late.

Before you cuss the night train, No. 4, remember that it carries a sleeper which comes from the far South, and it is a connection 'way down in Georgia that throws No. 4 out of gear. These night trains are strictly thru' trains, and are acknowledged to be the fastest running out of Cincinnati. They don't care to fool with local travel, and you should consider yourself fortunate to be allowed aboard of them. No. 5 (from Cincinnati) is always "right on," but No. 4 has been way off nearly every morning recently, frequently four hours out of gear. Monday morning she passed at seven o'clock.

Minister Called.

At the conclusion of the regular services at the Presbyterian church, Sunday night, a business meeting was held, at which Rev. C. H. Chumley, of Old Church, Virginia, was unanimously called as pastor. We understand Mr. Chumley will take charge of the church at once. The officers have rented the Ed. Hughes property on Lexington street, which the pastor will occupy until the completion of the new parsonage. At the same meeting, Squire W. H. Kinnaird announced that the church was now free from debt, and had some money ahead. He said that as only a few had contributed toward the new parsonage, that there would be no difficulty in raising the required amount. The building will be a handsome one, and an ornament to the town.

A Noble Cause.

Some time ago, a number of ladies formed an organization for the purpose of improving and further beautifying the Lancaster Cemetery. A very small fee was fixed for each to pay every year. This was collected last year, and much good accomplished, which fact was mentioned in THE RECORD at the time. We learn that many have failed to respond, when called upon for this year's dues, notwithstanding the fact that the amount is very small, and the object one of the most worthy. The ladies can do more good than double as many men in this matter, and we trust all will add their names to the roster of members, and thus aid materially in making the local city of the dead the prettiest in Kentucky. Any one who will refuse to look after the last resting place of those they once loved (we say "one loved," for if you loved them now you would not have to be spurred up in the matter) is certainly a peculiar piece of humanity. The next meeting of the ladies' organization will be duly announced in THE RECORD, and you should lend your assistance.

A Good Idea.

The Committee of the City Council, Judge J. S. Robinson and Capt. Herndon, have about decided to recommend that the town secure proper apparatus and drill an artesian well to supply the water works system. If water, in sufficient quantity can be thus found, it will save the town at least ten thousand dollars on the plant, give an absolutely pure water, and in many other ways be more satisfactory. All older citizens know of the famous well at Dr. B. F. Walter's residence, on Lexington street. This well supplied several regiments of soldiers during the war, and has never since been known to show the slightest signs of giving out or decreasing whatever. There are several other never failing streams in that locality, and the idea is to sink a well there. This will not cost much, and, beside, it is a good plan to risk several hundred dollars if there is a possibility of thereby saving ten or twelve thousand. Work will be commenced in a short time, and, as Mr. Jerry Respass will soon have the drawings completed, definite steps will be soon taken toward putting in the system. The town should, by all means, own the controlling interest in the plant, as this has proven much more satisfactory everywhere it has been tried.

Temperance Sermon.

Rev. Allen R. Moore made a splendid sermon on temperance, at the Christian church Sunday evening. He gave a lot of facts and figures that put his hearers to thinking. Mr. Moore is not what is known as "a temperance crank," but sets forth the evils of drink in a clear way that goes home to the people. Like in his preaching, he runs off on no mouse tracks, but puts facts before his hearers in so plain a way that much good results. THE RECORD takes no stock in exaltation, bare-scarce preaching, or temperance cranks who hang every unfortunate who is struggling under the curse of liquor.

Not The Other Fellow.

Robert Burdette has the following to say of our individual faults: "Don't if you fail, blame your failure on some one else. The man who wakes up with the headache the next morning was the man who was drunk the night before. It was not the other fellow. I have often thought that if I had been born in the next county to myself I would have gotten along a whole lot better. It is not the other people that have made the trouble for me; I have done that for myself. There is no man who can shoulder the blame for your sins. Alone you came into the world, alone and naked will you stand before the judgment bar of God to render an account of the deeds that you—not others—have done in the body." Bob ought to know what he is talking about and it impresses us, from what he says that he does.

Death of Mrs. Gresham.

The announcement of the death of Mrs. Tilatha Gresham, Saturday, caused great sorrow and surprise to the people of this city. Mrs. Gresham had been ill only a few days, and no fear of fatal results had been felt. She began to grow worse Friday afternoon and by Saturday morning the physician, Dr. Kinnaird, saw the danger. She lingered until that afternoon, when she passed away, about four o'clock. Mrs. Gresham was a sister of Messrs R. G. and Wm. Ward, and has been residing in Lancaster for several years. She was a prominent worker in the Presbyterian church and a devoted member of the local W. C. T. U. Her noble work for the cause of Christianity and temperance, together with her kindly disposition and desire to do good for all, endeared her to the people of our town, and no one had more friends or was more highly thought of than was she. Mrs. Gresham moved to Lancaster from Livingston, and soon after locating here became prominently identified in church and temperance work, and her death will be keenly felt by the leaders in these noble causes. Funeral services were held in the Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. J. L. McClung, after which the remains were interred in the Lancaster Cemetery.

Fair at Richmond.

The Elks have decided to hold a fair at Richmond this summer, and a committee is now at work mapping out the plans. While it is not fully determined, yet it is more than likely that an old time "rope" fair will be held, liberal money being offered for the stock show. This is a good idea, as the fairs in recent years have grown very tiresome, and do not attract the people, save those who like to gaze upon soiled tights, worn by women who left grand children at home, or those who want to go up against a gambling scheme of some kind. If a strictly old-fashioned fair, with plenty of good stock is given, we believe the boys will make all kind of money. It is also proposed, and wisely so, to omit the "trot," which attracts only a few horsemen.

A Vigorous Lecture.

Prof. James A. Tate, of Nashville, Tenn., and secretary of the National Prohibition Committee, lectured at the Christian church last Wednesday night. The night was unfavorable, and the audience small, but those who heard him are enthusiastic in their praise of the lecture. He defended prohibitionists against the charge of being cranks and fools. He maintained that the prohibitionist is the only statesman upon the liquor question. That it is true statesmanship for society to band together for the purpose of obtaining that which injures it. That the liquor traffic is an enemy to society and that the only way in which true statesmen can deal with it is to abolish it. Prof. Tate's language was very vigorous, though not at all offensive. Some parts of his lecture were highly dramatic and made a lasting impression upon the audience. Prof. Tate went from here to Danville. He will be in Kentucky for a few days more and will go on a three months tour of Oregon and California. He is well worth hearing, and the people wherever he goes should avail themselves of the opportunity to hear his lectures. At the close of his lecture here, a Prohibition Alliance was formed, of which O. T. Wallace was elected president, and Robert T. Embry, treasurer. The first meeting of the Alliance will be held next Friday night, March 22.

CENTRAL RECORD.

An Independent, Local Newspaper.
ISSUED WEEKLY.

LOUIS LANDRAM, Editor and Publisher.

Lancaster, Ky March 20th 1902.

EDWARD O. LEIGH.

Governor Beckham's Private Secretary.

The Louisville Times of Saturday contained a good picture of Mr. Edward O. Leigh, with the following comment: "Everybody know him and everybody likes him. The day is not long enough to allow him time to do all the favors he would like to do for his friends. He is a hypnotizing hand shaker, can pound a typewriter, quote Shakespeare, the general statutes and the Bible, or discuss the weather, with equal grace and dignity. The real office of secretary to the governor is that of a buffer, but Mr. Leigh is several times more than this. He is a sort of vice governor. So impartially devoted is he to the fair sex that he has never been able to pick one for his wife. Some of his friends, however, place an entirely different construction on Mr. Leigh's ability to make a pick.

In speaking of Mr. Leigh, Governor Beckham said to a Lexington Democrat reporter that the records show that the gentleman had been connected with the executive office as far back as 1847, and that his knowledge of affairs made him about indispensable. To look at Mr. Leigh, one would not think him so old, but the alleged fact that he was a school mate of Col. John G. Craddock, proves that he is getting along very well.

Wonder If There's Any Here.

Harrodsburg Democrat—Chronic loafers in our stores are getting to be chronic nuisances, and it is a wonder that our merchants have not raised a complaint before now. Many of the stores furnish chairs and tires that are occupied by the same loafers day after day and night after night, much to their discomfort and frequent inconvenience, both to themselves and their customers, but are too timid to complain of it in the presence of their

Good One on Senator McCreary.

Once upon a time Senator-elect McCreary, of Kentucky, was invited to a public demonstration in his state, and accepted on condition that he should not be asked to make a speech, says the Washington Post. While he was sitting upon the platform twirling his thumbs, the Chairman of the meeting came to him in distress. The principal speaker had failed to appear, and would Governor McCreary take his place? Mr. McCreary protested that he was not prepared, but the Chairman was insistent, and finally secured McCreary's promise to speak. "When I go out on the platform," whispered McCreary to the leader of the band, "play as loud and fast as you can, and don't let anybody stop you until you see me take my seat again." Mr. McCreary stepped forward. The band began to play. The Chairman tried in vain to stop the music. McCreary's lips were moving and his arms were gesticulating, but the sound of his voice could not be heard. Finally he took his seat. Then, and until then, did the perspiring musicians outside "Now will you speak again?" say the Chairman of the meeting, when quiet was restored. "No, indeed," replied McCreary. "I have really said all that I can say upon that subject."

Not It the Truth?

When a young man leaves his old home and after a few years returns on a visit from some city where he has existed principally upon bean sandwiches during his stay, and begins to tell his old friends the thousands of faults the old home has, he well shows himself for what nature intended him, but in the hurry to get rid of the poor material, left off the ears and bray, says the Jessamine Journal. This is very uncalled for in these young people, and shows that they have learned but little during their absence. Then there is always a certain class of traveling men who strike a town and failing to land the merchant for a good stiff order, return to their hotel to spend the rest of their time in town "roasting" the merchants and people in general. It is not a bad idea to hand them a little bunch of information as one of our old hotel men carried in stock for just such customers. In a very pleasing manner he would inform them that there were so far as he could see, no strings tied to them, and that we had five turnpikes and two railroads leading from the town, and those who were not pleased with the town and its people would not be disturbed in the attempt to leave.

Moral: If you don't like the town get out of it.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Some Excellent Work Has Been Done by Attorneys Owsley and Hamilton. Tough on Tigers.

The present term of Circuit Court will be of more benefit to the law-loving people than any has been held in recent years. As soon as the grand jury was selected, County Attorney James I. Hamilton pulled off his coat and has been going after wrong doers with a sharp stick. He spent most of his time in the room, and interrogated all the witnesses, which was a good idea, as this has been left mostly to the jurors heretofore. All the indictments are founded upon the very strongest evidence, and there is little doubt of their "sticking." The people should appreciate the hard work done by Mr. Hamilton, as no man ever tried harder to bring the guilty to books, and especially so in the blind tiger cases. The jury will not adjourn until next Tuesday, but up to date the following indictments have been returned.

Selling liquor unlawfully, 183; false swearing, 1; grand larceny, 6; shooting on public highway, 3; malicious shooting, 3; gaming, 20; breach of peace, 4; concealed weapons, 3; fornication, 2; detaining woman, 1; house breaking, 4; bawdy house, 1; disturbing religious worship, 6; trespass, 8.

Most of the liquor cases are against "Chute" negroes, but there are many against parties who have been selling near Davistown, report of which was recently given in THE RECORD. Commonwealth's Attorney Owsley I. is equally as energetic in the matter, and will see that heavy fines are imposed when the cases come to trial.

Against the Drink Habit.

Officials of the Burlington Railroad have started a campaign against intoxicants with a view to eradicating their use by the employees of every department, not only on duty, but also while off duty. Heretofore the stringent rule against the use of liquor while on duty has only been enforced rigidly against those who had anything to do with the operation of trains. Hereafter the rule will be enforced against the employees of all departments, including even the track, bridge and building departments. Members of these departments upon receiving their new books of rules were surprised to read the following rule: "The use of intoxicants by employees while on duty is prohibited. Their habitual use or the frequenting of places where they are sold is sufficient cause for dismissal."

It is actions like these by corporations employing thousands of men in desirable positions that is doing more to promote the cause of temperance than all the restrictive laws that are passed. Young men are learning and learning very fast that it is impossible to secure positions of honor and trust if they contract the drink habit and in consequence they are shunning the bar rooms, not only as the destroyers of their manhood, but a bar as well to employment. The sentiment against employing drinking men is growing so strong in this country that in a few years at most all avenues of trade and commerce will be closed against the wine blubber. The sooner it is done the better it will be for the morals of the country.—Elizabethtown News.

About the Southern.

So many wiseacres, better known as "Brilliant Alexanders," have said that the proposed extension of the Southern Railway from Burgin to Jefferson would never be constructed, the editor of THE RECORD decided to write to the president of the road and get an expression for publication. Every man who has had dealings with prominent men, and more particularly with railroad officials know that it is impossible to get a definite answer to questions on such subjects as the one in question, but the following letter, when the necessary "reading between the lines" is given, will show conclusively that the prospects for building the road are bright even if the lease of the C. N. O. & T. P. is confirmed. (The question of legality of the lease is now in the U. S. Supreme Court.) We are free to confess that this subject is our hobby, but no man, with a thimbleful of sense will say that it is a foolish one. The building of the road would revolutionize business in Garrard, and its certainly worth working for. The letter above referred to reads:

Southern Railway Company.
Office of the President.
New York, March 13, 1902.

Louis Landram, Editor, Lancaster, Ky. Dear Sirs—I have your favor of the 7th, with attached newspaper clipping, which have been noted with interest, and for which please accept thanks. In response I beg to say that we have not yet reached conclusions regarding the proposed extension from Burgin to Jefferson. If the lease of the C. N. O. & T. P. Company is confirmed, we would, of course, have less use for such a line than we would otherwise have. Yours very truly, Sam'l Spencer, President.

SCROFULA

I bequeath to my children Scrofula with all its attendant horrors, humiliation and suffering. This is a strange legacy to leave to posterity; a heavy burden to place upon the shoulders of the young.

This treacherous disease dwarfs the body and hinders the growth and development of the faculties, and the child born of blood poison, or scrofula-tainted parentage, is poorly equipped for life's duties.

Scrofula is a disease with numerous and varied symptoms; enlarged glands or tumors about the neck and armpits, catarrh of the head, weak eyes and dreadful skin eruptions upon different parts of the body show the presence of tubercular or scrofulous matter in the blood. This dangerous and stealthy disease entrenches itself securely in the system and attacks the bones and tissues, destroys the red corpuscles of the blood, resulting in white swelling, a pallid, waxy appearance of the skin, loss of strength and a gradual wasting away of the body.

S. S. combines both purifying and tonic properties, and is guaranteed entirely specific, making it the ideal remedy in all scrofulous affections. It purifies the deteriorated blood, makes it rich and strong and a complete and permanent cure is soon effected. S. S. improves the digestion and assimilation of food, restores the circulation, bringing a healthy color to the skin and vigor to the weak and emaciated body.

Write us about your case and our physicians will cheerfully advise and help you in every possible way to regain your health. Book on blood and skin diseases free.

City Council, Lancaster, Ky.,
Stated Meeting March 3rd, 1902.

The ordinance that was introduced and read the second time at the last stated meeting February 13th, 1902, to amend Section 6, of article 10, of the ordinances of the City of Lancaster, Kentucky, and the amendment thereto on page 338 of the Record Book in regard to Peddlers License, having been again read as required by law, and upon consideration had, and on motion the same was adopted and passed to go into effect and be enforced from its publication and is as follows:

The City Council of the City of Lancaster do ordain as follows: That section 6 of Article 10 of the ordinances of the City of Lancaster, and the amendment thereto on page 338 of the Record Book be and the same is hereby amended by striking out the words "twenty-five dollars" in said section and inserting in lieu thereof the words "fifty dollars" and in the said amendment thereto by striking out the words "and a license to peddle by the day shall be two dollars ($2.00) and a license to peddle for one week shall be four dollars" ($4.00) and inserting in lieu thereof the words "and a license to peddle by the day shall be five dollars" ($5.00). Said section and amendment as amended herein, shall read in full as follows: "The annual license for peddling within the City Limits shall be fifty dollars ($50.00) and a license to peddle by the day shall be five dollars ($5.00). No license granted under this article shall give authority to more than one person, and his name shall be stated in the License." A Copy, Attest: W. B. Mason, Clerk. March 4th, 1902.

GRASP THE OPPORTUNITY.

The above heading means a great deal to those requiring or intending to buy any kind of a Monument this year.

The United States census bureau has just made up its statistics of the chicken industry in the United States. The results are so astounding that the American hen must be proclaimed the greatest of birds, now and forevermore.

The chickens of the United States the year 1900 weighed 921,715 tons.

To appreciate these figures it must be known that all the big and little fighting ships in the United States weigh 123,644 tons.

The number of these chickens was 284,000,000 and they laid 10,000,000 eggs.

The weight of these eggs was 625,033 tons, and their bulk was forty times that of the earth.

The value of these eggs would have paid every cent of the expenses of the United States War Department for the year.

Missouri is the first State in chickens and eggs. In the year 1900 the hens of Missouri laid more than $5,000,000 worth of eggs beyond the need of the owners, the egg crop bringing the women of Missouri as much cash as the wheat crop brought the men.
